

7 Questions To Ask Retirees

We recently came across an article by Mark Patterson in U.S. News & World Report who had just returned from an AARP convention and was bursting with valuable intel about the methods and practices of the happy retirees he met.

He crafted his findings into what he found to be the seven most consequential questions for folks to ask themselves when planning for retirement. Our team decided to share five of these with the Retire Sooner Facebook Group for their thoughts and comments and some of the answers might surprise you.

Find Out More

Team Highlights

Capital's Favorite Recipes To Fill Your Holiday Table

Thomas

BEEF TENDERLOIN

"My favorite holiday recipe is beef tenderloin. My father has been making this recipe every Christmas for as long as I can remember, and it's a staple in our household around the holidays."

— Thomas Collins

INGREDIENTS

- 4 to 5 lb. beef tenderloin, trimmed, cut in two pieces, and tied
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ½ teaspoon black pepper
- 2 tablespoons olive oil
- 4 tablespoons butter, salted, softened
- 2 teaspoons garlic, minced
- 1 teaspoon horseradish, prepared or Dijon mustard
- 1 teaspoon rosemary, minced or thyme

The lights are up, the ornaments are hung, and although Home Depot has displayed Christmas decorations since well before Halloween, the official holiday season is finally upon us. Assuming the Thanksgiving feast has had time to digest, we wanted to help you gear up for some delicious yuletide gluttony, so we've asked our team to share their favorite recipes. No matter how religious or secular your celebration, these dishes are sure to make it tasty.

Learn Our Favorite Recipes

Jason Takes Hawaii

Investment Advisor, Jason Cove, took a trip to Hawaii with his wife for their 20th wedding anniversary! He not only witnessed the eruption of a volcano, but he returned with numerous memories and some incredible photos.

Client Spotlight

Hidden WWII Letters Help This Retiree Discover More About His Family

When finding happiness in retirement, our clients take many different paths. From time to time, we like to shine a light on the road a particular person has traveled. We've covered a lot of territory, but today's spotlight illuminates more hallowed ground.

Rather than a passion for golf or a yearning to hike across multiple state lines, Frank Pringham's story is a search for truth.

Now a Sandy Springs resident, the first leg of Frank's quest began in Detroit, where his grandmother, Helen Sebba, lived in a retirement community until 1989. After she passed away, a community employee named Tim Mallard purchased her unwanted family desk. Tim didn't know at the time that there was a hidden compartment containing a passport, old photos, and letters that would eventually lead him to Frank and change both of their lives forever.

Learn More

Retire Sooner Podcast

KEN HONDA

One Trick To Change Your Relationship With Money

RETIRE SOONER

#133 – One Trick To Change Your Relationship With Money From Ken Honda

Is your relationship with money holding you back from finding financial success? Many of us have a rocky relationship with money, but if we looked at our capital from a different perspective this could possibly change our outlook and relationship with money.

To aid us in improving our connection with our funds and uncover the trick we need to change our relationship with money, Wes sits down with Ken Honda, a worldwide, well-known author whose books have sold more than 8 million copies, including his latest book called Happy Money: The Japanese Art of Making Peace With Your Money. Ken shares how the Japanese look at retirement, explains happy money versus unhappy money, and talks about fairness when it comes to how much money you possess. He also reveals two ways to find peace and happiness with money, how appreciating your funds can help you appreciate other things in your life, and defines invisible and visible assets. To wrap up the episode Ken and Wes touch on teaching children about money, happy money for senior citizens compared to children, and a problem he sees with poverty.

Listen to the Full Podcast Episode

More News

Wes Moss Featured On The Military Money Show Podcast: The Habits To Practice To Be A Happy Retiree

Wes Moss joins Podcast Host, Lacey Langford, on episode #208 of the Military Money Show Podcast where he shares what habits you can practice right now to become one of the happiest retirees on the block.

Read More

Wes Moss's What The Happiest Retirees Know Featured On Retirement Daily's 2022 Reading List

The team at Retirement Daily has chosen Wes Moss's What The Happiest Retirees Know: 10 Habits for a Healthy, Secure, and Joyful Life as one of their top picks and features on their 2022 Reading List.

Read More